

What an honor and a privilege to serve as your Co-Presidents in Little Rock, Arkansas! We are so excited about this convention, and we hope you feel a lot of Southern hospitality.

On Thursday, for those early arrivers, we've got a city tour planned with a guide whose enthusiasm will let you love this city just as much as she does. We'll start with the Quapaw Indian quarter before we get a personal tour of the Governor's Mansion, then move on to the Central High School museum and get a chance to ride on an antique carousel, which we hear is only one of a few still in existence in the world. This carousel is not like the carousels of today for sure.

On Friday morning, we'll get personalized tours of the Clinton Library and Heifer International. Heifer International is unique in that it gifts animals to needy countries and teaches people how to use those animals to help themselves, not just for a meal, but for a lifetime. At Heifer, we will also enjoy a boxed lunch together and gift the organization with a twin surprise of our own.

On Friday night, we officially welcome everyone to the Little Rock convention as we share a meal together at the hotel. We have a fun night planned with games and lots of laughter.

On Saturday, we'll take an hour's bus ride to Hot Springs, Arkansas, a town with a national park inside full of shops, entertainment, food, and those world famous bath houses. We'll spend a couple of on-your-own hours there before we board the bus for a group dinner and a comedy show at the nearby Five-Star Dinner Theatre. Then, we'll board the bus at 9:00 P.M. to return to our hotel.

Sunday will bring our own Gospel Hour, Judging Contest, and Business Meeting, along with our group photo, then we'll end our all too brief convention with an Antebellum Cotillion. Period attire is optional. We just want everyone to have a good time and enjoy being together.

Looking forward to a fun together time in Little Rock, Arkansas.

Twincerely,
Meryl and Cheryl Hollar
